What should I do? A: I'm going to be harsh and suggest a complete wipe and re-install of your computer. If you're new to programming with ASP.NET and/or .NET you will be a lot better off by just doing a fresh install of Windows and installing the latest version of Visual Studio. If you absolutely have to keep your data, BACKUP your data and then wipe your hard drive and install a fresh copy of Windows and Visual Studio. This time, ensure you have a clean install of Visual Studio with all of the updates and Windows that is on your computer, including updates to the .NET Framework. If you're using Windows 10, you're going to have to do the above BEFORE you install any VS extensions,
